ABOUT ME

A goal-oriented FrontEnd developer with over a year of intensive training and hands-on experience in building web applications. I have solid skills in React, Redux Toolkit, and Next.js for creating interactive and high-performance user interfaces. Proficient in TypeScript, JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, and Tailwind CSS, which allows me to develop adaptive web designs. I have experience working with REST APIs, facilitating effective communication with server applications. My strong knowledge of English enables me to communicate comfortably in an international environment. Known for being reliable and responsive to team needs, I'm always ready to embrace new challenges and committed to continuous professional growth.
